The Delaware County Against Human Trafficking is celebrating an anniversary!

10 Years

EST. 2013

Established in 2013, the Delaware County Against Human Trafficking (DCAHT) Coalition, coordinated by United Way of Delaware County (the first United Way to fund, engage and support human trafficking efforts!) and

The Salvation Army, is Delaware's community response to the problem of human trafficking through advocacy, education, prevention and ongoing comprehensive services.

Coalition Strategy:

The coalition focuses on education and awareness, which increases identification, support to survivors, and a clear understanding of the issue. Coalition impact is measured via the Delaware General Health District's Community Health Assessments. Goals for the coalition include:

- 20% of Delaware County residents will be aware of the issue of human trafficking.
- 5% of people who live, work, and/or worship in Delaware County will show an increase in knowledge of the issue of human trafficking.

Since 2013, United Way of Delaware County and the Women's Leadership Network have invested OVER HALF A MILLION DOLLARS to support a systematic approach addressing human trafficking, including direct services, advocacy, and education.
